LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR & CEO

Dear Coolidge Friends,

I'm proud to share with you our 2018 Annual Report. The Coolidge had another great year!

Our award-winning first-run films and signature special programs attracted nearly 247,000 patrons, an all-time record for the Coolidge.

We were honored to host a remarkable array of special guests, including Werner Herzog, Michael Douglas, Liv Ullmann, Ethan Hawke and Keir Dullea. People often thank me for all we do, and say they could come to the Coolidge every day for a new experience.

We continued to harness the power of film to educate, engage and build bridges of understanding. In addition to regularly hosting filmmakers, we launched WIDE LENS, a program that explores social justice issues and underrepresented perspectives through film and moderated discussions. Panelists and audience members expanded our awareness and empathy by sharing their personal experiences on topics including immigration, homelessness, racial profiling and the legacy of the women's movement.

Human connection is increasingly recognized as a key contributor to individual and community health, and we're proud to provide a welcoming gathering place for ideas, education, and engagement. Our partnerships and collaborations with more than twenty educational, civic, and cultural organizations support the broad range of our programming. Leaders of these organizations and many others also recognize and appreciate the Coolidge as a vital resource.

We see so much opportunity to expand and diversify the remarkable array and number of events we offer in our current space. Spaces for additional programming and outreach will enable us to better serve our current patrons, cultivate new audiences, and reach those for whom film is a critical way to learn about the world. That is the driving force behind our plans to expand the Coolidge. Those plans, which include an education and engagement center as well as additional screening spaces and essential upgrades to public areas, are moving closer to fruition as we seek and secure major gifts prior to launching a public campaign.

In 2019, we will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Coolidge's formation as a nonprofit organization, thanks to the determined efforts of a dedicated community that staved off a pending demolition. Harold Brown, who came to the Coolidge as a boy and throughout his life, was the star of that comeback and an ongoing major supporter. We are forever grateful for his enduring support, and saddened by his recent passing.

I'm also deeply grateful to the extraordinary Coolidge team - patrons, members, donors, admirers, staff, and board. The Coolidge is THE COOLIDGE because of you. Thank you.

KATHERINE TALLMAN

The image shows the interior of a historic moviehouse. The foreground is filled with rows of red upholstered seats. In the background, a stage is visible with a large red curtain. Above the curtain, there are several golden statues or reliefs. The ceiling is decorated with a colorful, starburst pattern. The overall atmosphere is warm and classic.

Our mission is to entertain, inform, and engage – building a vital community through film culture.

OUR HISTORIC MOVIEHOUSE ONE

"Movies are an empathy generator; they open our eyes.
The Coolidge Corner Theatre
makes that happen."

– Ethan Hawke

HIGHLIGHTS & SPECIAL GUESTS

Coolidge Award with Werner Herzog

On February 8, we honored internationally acclaimed filmmaker Werner Herzog with the eleventh Coolidge Award. Herzog is widely known for his prolific and daring body of cinematic work, including both narrative and documentary masterpieces. The filmmaker joined us for a screening of his recent documentary Into the Inferno, followed that evening by an onstage conversation moderated by Boston University professor Herb Golder and the presentation of the Coolidge Award.

"The Coolidge [is] one of those brave fortresses of cinema culture. I find it exceptional."

– Werner Herzog

THE COOLIDGE AWARD

Coolidge Award with Michael Douglas

On November 29, we honored actor and producer Michael Douglas with the twelfth Coolidge Award. Douglas was present for an afternoon screening of Wonder Boys, followed that evening by an onstage conversation moderated by WGBH Executive Arts Editor Jared Bowen and the presentation of the Coolidge Award.

Liv Ullmann in person for AUTUMN SONATA

As part of our Bergman Centennial celebration, we were delighted to welcome actress Liv Ullmann back to the Coolidge for a discussion following a 35mm screening of Autumn Sonata.

Ethan Hawke in person for BLAZE

On opening night of his latest directorial project, Ethan Hawke was at the Coolidge to do introductions and Q&As at select shows of Blaze. In between those, he took a break to meet one especially big fan of his film—another appearance by Liv Ullmann!

Brookline Booksmith's Transnational Literature Series

We began a partnership with the Brookline Booksmith's Transnational Literature series, hosting screenings of Persepolis and Wajib with post-film panel discussions.

William Lustig Accepts the Coolidge After Midnite Award

Coolidge After Midnite honored director William Lustig, with screenings of his films Maniac Cop 2 and Vigilante, and with the Coolidge After Midnite Award.

New Coolidge Education Classes and One-Night Seminars

Three new Coolidge Education classes ran in 2018, covering Italian Neorealism, early Hollywood female film directors, and the early films of Alfred Hitchcock. In addition, we introduced one-night film seminars at select Big Screen Classics events to a resounding success.

Strano Film Festival Showcase

In recognition of Earth Day, we screened a special showcase of short films from Italy's Strano Film Festival. Each film was introduced by special guests, who discussed how the work relates to the festival's focus on "the land."

Bergman Centennial

Theaters across the Greater Boston area celebrated the 100th birthday of filmmaker Ingmar Bergman with a collaborative retrospective of his work. Together with the Brattle Theatre and the Harvard Film Archive, we all hosted over 30 screenings of the filmmaker's work. The Boston Society of Film Critics named it the Restrospective of the Year at their 2018 awards ceremony.

Cemetery Cinema

We returned to the Mount Auburn Cemetery for a second year for another outdoor double feature. This year we paired Ingmar Bergman's Wild Strawberries (as part of the Bergman Centennial) with Rob Reiner's Stand by Me.

Introducing Wide Lens

We introduced a new signature program to the Coolidge this year: Wide Lens expands our field of vision as we explore underrepresented perspectives through film and conversation, with moderated community discussions following each screening. The series began with a screening and panel discussion on Get Out (right). Later screenings included She's Beautiful When She's Angry, Fruitvale Station, and Fahrenheit 11/9 with subject Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez in person (below). Wide Lens is supported by a grant from the Brookline Community Foundation, and was co-created by Dr. Raul Fernandez.

THE FAVOURITE

Film Trivia Night Fundraiser

The Film Trivia Night fundraiser returned for a second year, where some very knowledgeable movie buffs helped raise money to support the Coolidge.

Free Solo with director and subject in person

Director Elizabeth Chai Vasarhelyi and film subject Alex Honnold joined us for Q&As on our opening night of the Academy Award winner for Best Documentary, Free Solo.

2001: A SPACE ODYSSEY on 70mm with star Keir Dullea in person

The Coolidge was part of Warner Brothers' 50th anniversary celebration of Stanley Kubrick's science fiction masterpiece 2001: A Space Odyssey, with screenings of the film on 70mm throughout June and a day of special screenings with the film's star, Keir Dullea, in person.

PHANTOM THREAD on 70mm and a Daniel Day-Lewis Retrospective

The Coolidge was proud to be selected to screen Paul Thomas Anderson's Phantom Thread on 70mm. In conjunction with that film opening, we decided to pay tribute to its supposedly retiring star with our repertory series I'm Finished! A Celebration of Daniel-Day Lewis. Screenings included My Beautiful Laundrette, My Left Foot, The Last of the Mohicans, There Will Be Blood, and Lincoln.
